KWANGTUNG CHIEFS ANSWER MALICIOUS JAPANESE REPORTS

Unshakeable Patriotism Of People Of Province

Canton, June 17. Preposterous rumours disseminated recently by Japanese sources concerning Kwangtung were put to ridicule by General Yu Han-mou, Commander-in-Chief of the Fourth Route Army, and General Wu Te-chen, Governor of Kwangtung, in a joint interview today.

These rumours, carried by the Domei News Agency, alleged, among other things, that alarming developments were expected in Kwangtung. They further alleged that a certain important official of Kwangtung had been missing for several days, and that resentment was high among overseas Chinese against their home government.

The Japanese fail to realise, Generals Yu and Wu declared, that any malicious effort calculated to undermine the unity of the Chinese nation is bound to fail, as the entire people are now under a single banner against Japan's aggression.

KWANGTUNG PATRIOTISM

Referring particularly to the case of Kwangtung, General Yu and General Wu pointed out that the people of Kwangtung are noted for their patriotism and racial consciousness, which have been further strengthened by Japanese atrocities. To say that they can be disaffected by the machinations of Japanese propagandists is an insult to common sense.

As to overseas Chinese, never were they more firmly behind their home government. This fact may be witnessed by their ready response to appeals for the nation's war chest and relief funds for the thousands of refugees victimised by the Japanese air bombings.

INTENTION FRUSTRATED

Generals Yu and Wu expressed the belief that during this crucial moment, the entire people of Kwangtung will have unquestioning confidence in the authorities and will never be swayed by ridiculous Japanese rumours. (Central News).

CHINESE STUDENTS' SUCCESS

London, June 17. Twin Chinese brothers studying at Trinity College, Cambridge, Messrs. Yu Chung-hsi and Yu Hsueh-shi, have passed the second part of the Economic Tripos, second class.

They are sons of the manager of the Central Bank of China, Shanghai. (Reuter).

Chinese Flag Reflected In The Setting Sun

Just before sundown the waterfront along Gloucester Road, Wanchai, was crowded with hundreds of Chinese, many of them with field glasses and all looking excitedly towards the west.

The casual observer first thought it was an aeroplane stunt, while there were those who looked into the harbour for something unusual. But they were all wrong.

Cause of the excitement was the setting sun and the remark was made on all sides that the Chinese National flag could be seen reflected in good King Sol as he made his way majestically behind the hills.

Whatever the reason, the crowd seemed excited enough and the animated manner in which they chatted to one another gave the impression that they were thoroughly convinced in the matter.

JAPANESE AIRMEN AT LARGE

HECTIC SEARCH ON KWANGTUNG BORDER

Canton, June 17. Several Japanese airmen are at large in the mountains on the border of Kwangtung, according to Chinese reports received here this evening.

The reports state that the remaining three Japanese planes of the six shot down yesterday during the air battle near Lokchung have now been discovered but only four bodies were found.

A twenty-two-year old airman, alleged to be named Hatahama, was discovered alive in the mountains at Chihshien and was taken to Shikwan, where, on instructions received from Hankow, every consideration was given him.

Meanwhile, a hectic search in the countryside is progressing for an unknown number of Japanese aviators who are alleged to have escaped by parachute when their machines were destroyed yesterday. (Reuter).

PLANES OVER BOCCA TIGRIS

Canton, June 17. Six Japanese planes, in two groups, appeared over Bocca Tigris at 2.30 p.m. today on a reconnaissance flight.

The invading planes later returned to their base in the south. (Central News).

EX-AMBASSADOR IN NEW POST

Appointed Chief Of Department Of International Trade

London, June 17.

Sir Hugué Knatchbull-Hugessen, former British Ambassador to China, has been appointed Chief of the Special Department of International Trade at the Foreign Office.

Sir Hugué, who was appointed Ambassador to China in 1936 after serving in Persia, was seriously injured in a Japanese air attack while motoring to Shanghai in August last year.

Later he made a trip to the Dutch East Indies to recuperate and left Hong Kong for England in December.

Opposition papers assert that the post to which the diplomat has been appointed has little political importance. (Transocean).

AUSTRALIAN CRICKETERS ENTERTAINED

London, June 17.

The Australian cricket team were entertained to dinner by Members of Parliament at the House of Commons last night.

Guests included Cabinet Ministers, members of the House of Lords and Mr. W. R. Hammond, Captain of the English team.

Mr. Jeans, manager of the Australian team replied to the toast, which was proposed, by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon. (Reuter).

GREAT YELLOW RIVER FLOOD EXTENDS: LUNGHAI RAILWAY EMBANKMENT WASHED AWAY

Peiping, June 17.

Over 500,000 people have been forced to flee from their homes in the flooded areas and only the roofs of thousands of farmsteads are visible.

The floods have washed away the Lunghai Railway embankment at five places, and two long sections of the line are submerged. The floods have now reached 40 miles south of Kaileng and are flowing at the rate of 300 yards an hour. (Reuter).

SERIOUS SETBACK

Shanghai, June 17.

Japanese official silence regarding the Yellow River floods continued at this evening's press conference. The military spokesman declared once again that he had no information.

This increases speculation that the Japanese are suffering considerable setback as a result of the floods, even if they have not actually suffered serious loss of men. (Reuter).

HEAVY RAINS

Hankow, June 17.

The flood is flowing southward east of the Peiping-Hankow Railway to the south as far as Lin-yang, about 160 miles south of Chengchow. The last 24 hours show that the water has spread by 60 miles.

Heavy rain during the past two days has intensified the situation. The current of the Yellow River is flowing at such high speed to drain the flood water that navigation is exceedingly dangerous.

The flooded area is about 350 square miles, the depth of the water at the highest point being fourteen feet. (International).

Situation At Anking

JAPANESE ADVANCING TO MEET CHINESE AT CHIENSHAN

Hankow, June 17.

Japanese forces which landed at Anking are advancing westward in two columns, one of which is going northward in the direction of Chien-shan, while the other column is advancing southward along the north bank of the Yangtze River in the direction of Wanchang, according to Chinese dispatches from the front.

Chinese forces are at present holding the line east of Chien-shan.

Chinese official dispatches claim that the area east of the Peiping-Hankow Railway has at present been cleared of Japanese troops. Through railway traffic on the Lunghai and Peiping-Hankow Railways is said to have resumed yesterday.

IZUMO IN NANKING

Shanghai, June 17.

The Izumo, flagship of the Japanese Third Fleet, after exhibiting herself from the mud banks at Woosung, arrived at Nanking last night to proceed up river in connection with the naval push at Anking. (International).

JAPAN TO FIGHT TO FINISH STATES GEN. UGAKI

Tokyo, June 17.

"Japan is determined to fight to the finish," declared the Japanese Foreign Minister, General Ugaki, to representatives of the foreign press today. "While Marshal Chiang Kai-shek is prolonging the war by his refusal to abandon his anti-Japanese attitude, Japan is mobilising her combined strength in order to bring the war to a conclusion," he said.

BRITISH CAPTAIN ACQUITTED

Gibraltar, June 17.

Captain Stanley Scott, of the steamer Stanoroff, was acquitted today on the charge of carrying anti-aircraft guns and shells to Spain and contravening the Act passed in 1936 upholding non-intervention in Spain.

There was no prima facie case against him and the Court declared that the Act did not apply in this case. (Reuter).

FIGHT IN FRENCH CHAMBER

Paris, June 17.

In the Chamber of Deputies today, hard words over the Spanish situation led to a fight, some members declaring that the Franco-Spanish border should be left open others stating that it should be closed.

The Government do not wish a debate of Spanish affairs in the Chamber and the Premier, M. Daladier, may adjourn Parliament. (Reuter).

ANGLO-JAPANESE RELATIONS

Anglo-Japanese relations were not very satisfactory but, said the Foreign Minister, he hoped these would improve in future.

Tension On Hainan Island

Holhow, June 17.

Tension prevails on Hainan Island, China's largest insular possession off the Kwangtung coast, as two Japanese warships have arrived at the harbour of Holhow.

After their arrival yesterday, a seaplane was dispatched on a reconnaissance flight over the island. Last night the vessels turned their searchlights on the mainland. Otherwise, they have remained inactive. (Central News).

BENEFACTION FOR THE HONG KONG UNIVERSITY

Capt. Walter Bosman Endows Peace Scholarships

During the months January to March this year the Colony had interesting visitors in Captain Walter Bosman and his wife. Captain Bosman, the bearer of a name once known and honoured in Hong Kong, made his first return after an absence of 51 years during which he made for himself an honourable career as an engineer in South Africa, first in the service of the Government and afterwards in the coal mining industry.

He received his early education in Queen's College and it was a scholarship gained there that enabled him to get the necessary training in London to qualify him for his profession. (Continued on Back Page)

LANDLORD SUED BY TENANT

Exemplary Damages Claimed

An interesting case, in which it is alleged that a landlord "without having given his tenant legal notice to quit, or otherwise having determined his tenancy, entered the latter's premises with several servants or agents, and by force ejected the tenant therefrom and removed his chattels and goods into the street" was called before the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, in Summary Court yesterday.

Plaintiff was Lo Kwai Fong, trading as the Sun Man Sewing Factory, at No. 25 Tung Tau Street, Kowloon City, and he is suing Tong Ying-cheung, of No. 15 Nam Kwok Road, second floor, Kowloon City, for the sum of $1,000 for damages for assault, damages to his furniture, damages for wrongful ejection, and exemplary damages in respect of the high-handed and utterly illegal behaviour on the part of the defendant.

Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ appeared for plaintiff and defendant was represented by Mr. M. A. da Silva.

A counter-claim was brought, particulars of which were—(1) Defendant was until May 2 the registered owner of the premises known as No. 25 Tung Tau Street, Kowloon City.

(2) Plaintiff was until April 24 a tenant on the ground floor of the premises on a monthly tenancy basis at $12 per Chinese lunar month.

(3) On April 29 when plaintiff delivered up possession of the premises he owed, and is still owing, to defendant $14 being rental due for one month and five days.

(4) On the plaintiff taking up tenancy of the premises defendant loaned him the electric light meter installed on the premises by defendant for his (plaintiff's) use during the currency of the tenancy and, on April 29, when plaintiff was to deliver up possession of the premises to defendant, plaintiff owed the China Light and Power Co., Ltd., the sum of $6.18 in respect of electric consumption.

(5) Plaintiff failed to pay this sum to the company, who threatened to disconnect the meter and the defendant therefore paid it in order to avoid this disconnection.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS CALENDAR

A total of 14 cases are down for trial at the June Criminal Sessions, including one of murder against a Able Seaman Edwin Dwyer. The Sessions will commence on Monday.

The cases are as follows:—
Lai Yuk-sang, alias Ah Mung, alias Lai Wing, charged with robbery by two or more;

Ng Wal, Ng Shap-ng and Lo Kan-chai, charged with the unlawful possession of arms and ammunition;

Edwin Moreland Dwyer, charged with murder;

Wong Chi and Wong Hing-wan, charged with robbery by two or more and (b) unlawful possession of arms;

Luk Tak-tung and Au Shing, charged with robbery by two or more;

Leung Wang, charged with possession of a dangerous drug;

Chan Tai, Kwong Ning, alias Kong Ning, Ching Chi, Wong Kwok-fat, Choi Yau, Pang Tak, Wong Lap-man, alias Wong Wai-nam, and Kwong Chung, all separately charged with breach of a Deportation Order.

The defendant therefore counter-claims for the respected sums of $14 and $6.18 from the plaintiff, also mense profits up to the date of possession.

After Mr. W. C. Hung, of Deacons, and one of his clerks had been called to testify that on March 14 a letter had been written and posted by them respectively to plaintiff on behalf of defendant giving him notice to quit Mr. Russ said that the facts of the case were that while plaintiff was in the country on April 29, defendant, with a posse of men, entered into his premises by force, assaulted two or three of the inmates, put them out into the street, and carried all plaintiff's goods and chattels into the street, where they remained to the present time.

Lo Kwai-fong, sole proprietor of the Sun Man Knitting Factory, was the first witness called. In the course of his evidence he said he never got notice to quit on March 14 and that he never owed defendant any rent at that time.

After cross-examination by Mr. Silva the hearing was adjourned till July 7.

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

FEAST OF THE SACRED HEART OF JESUS

The Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, which will be celebrated on next Friday, is the last of the cycle of feasts whose date depends on that of Easter. It is also the newest of the great feasts of the year. In its liturgical importance it ranks among the greatest, yet it is within quite recent times that it has been given that rank. The reason for the additional emphasis which has been given to the devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus in modern times is the belief of the Catholic Church that it is particularly suited to the character and to the needs of the present time.

In honouring the Sacred Heart of Jesus we honour the love which Jesus bore for mankind, and we use the symbol of the heart because that is universally accepted as the symbol of love. An obvious parallel is "loyalty to the Crown," a phrase that we use when we want to describe loyalty to the authority of the King. Particular recognition of the love of Christ for mankind has been always present in the liturgical prayer of the Church, but it is within the last two centuries that it has developed considerably in the form of devotion to the Sacred Heart.

MODERN RELIGIOUS ART

The Catholic pavilion in the Glasgow Exhibition has been singled out by most critics as one of the successful buildings of the Exhibition. Like most of the others it is decidedly modern in style, and therefore rather experimental in design and decoration. The frescoes on the outside are a repetition of an idea carried out in one of the new Parisian churches, but they will be subjected to a much more severe weather test in Glasgow than in Paris.

The "modern" tendency in Catholic religious art has not gone beyond the tentative stage yet. It is pushed farthest by Flemish influences, though it is also strong in France. It was also developing strongly in Germany until recent years when it remained at a standstill. In Holland it is mainly in buildings that the ultra-modern style is most marked, but it is in sculpture that the greatest divergence is seen from the traditional form of religious art.

The tendencies of sculpture are the same whether the subject is religious or not, but in the case of religious statues an effort is always made to suggest reverence. The difference between the two forms is excellently shown in the work of Eric Gill, the most prominent of English Catholic artists, and probably the leading sculptor in England today. His religious statues differ essentially from his other work by this note of reverence.

An excellent example is his figure for the "Annunciation," which, with its beautifully modelled hands, is one of the outstanding works of this year's Academy.

CATHOLIC ARTISTS IN THE ACADEMY

In addition to Eric Gill, many other Catholic artists are exhibiting in this year's Academy. Though the painters are better known there is one other sculptor whose work is beginning to command attention: Miss Rosamund Fletcher, whose father, the late Blandford Fletcher, was also an artist. Her exhibit is a bronze relief for her father's tombstone.

It consists of a crucifix with a group of sheep suggested by the parable of the Good Shepherd. A carving of a lion cub by Miss Fletcher is a notable exhibit in the Paris Salon this year.

Among the painters, Sir John Lavery is prominent as usual. His picture of Piccadilly on Coronation Day shows all his remarkable skill for dealing with crowded scenes, but the best of his six pictures, as far as can be judged from reproductions, is the portrait of the Poet Laureate. There are some pictures by the late Glynn Philpott, and they characteristically illustrate the different styles in which he was experimenting during his latter years. The large painting of Queen Mary by Simon Elwes is one of the most discussed pictures in the whole exhibition.

Though it comes in for considerable praise, yet it is said not to be a very good example of the "Elwes manner." Though the public consider that a painter must have "arrived" when he is able to paint a royal personage, it is probably a much greater tribute to him when he is considered to have a special "manner" of his own. Probably the only instance of a husband and wife exhibiting this year is that of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bush. Mr. Bush, who has exhibited for fifteen consecutive years, has two pictures in the Academy, and Mrs. Bush, who first exhibited twenty five years ago, has one. Their daughter is a Holy Cross nun.

OTHER NAMES IN THE WORLD OF ART
Two other Catholics known in the world of art who have been mentioned in the news recently are Mr. Francis Doyle-Jones, the sculptor, who died last month and Dr. John Rothenstein, who was a short time ago appointed Director and Keeper of the Tate Gallery.

Mr. Doyle Jones had a nervous break-down a short time ago; just after he had finished his commission to execute a bust of King George V. His work includes many public monuments, among them that of T.P. O'Connor in Fleet St., the Captain Webb memorial at Dover, and the Robert Burns memorial at Glasgow. He died just before the unveiling of the 40-foot monument to St. Patrick which has been erected at Downpatrick in Ireland, a work on which he was continuously engaged for the last year.

Dr. Rothenstein, the eldest son of Sir William Rothenstein, was for five years Director of the City Art Galleries and Ruskin Museum at Sheffield. He was previously Director of the Leeds Art Gallery and is the author of numerous works on art, including one on the portrait drawings of his father.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

Subject:—Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches tomorrow June 19 will be "Is the Universe, including Man, evolved by Atomic Force?"

The Golden Text will be "Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth." (Ps. 124:8).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible, "And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea and entered into a ship and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark and Jesus was not come to them. And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew. So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid. But he saith. It is I: be not afraid. Then they willingly received him into the ship."—(John 6:16-21 to).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy "Moral and spiritual might belong to Spirit, who holds the 'wind in His fists' and this teaching accords with Science and harmony. Jesus said: 'I knew that Thou hearest me always'; and he raised Lazarus from the dead, stilled the tempest, healed the sick, walked on the water. There is divine authority for believing in the superiority of spiritual power over material resistance. The world would collapse without Mind, without the intelligence which holds the wind in its grasp. The immanent sense of Mind-power enhances the glory of Mind."—(Ps. 121:3, 209).

TEACHING SIMPLE A.R.P. AND ELEMENTARY FIRST AID

The Women's Air Raid Precautions Union was formed recently with the object of teaching as many women as possible simple air raid precautions and elementary first aid so as to enable them to apply this knowledge in their own homes, should the need arise.

Practical instruction will be carried out under the direction of Mrs. Langley, of the St. John Ambulance Association, and Mrs. Begg, of the Hong Kong Volunteer Nursing Detachment.

By courtesy of the Presidents and Committees of the following societies open lectures have been arranged as follows:—

St. Andrew's Church Hall (Nathan Road, Kowloon):—Every Monday at 3 p.m. and Wednesday at 9 p.m.

Y.M.C.A.:—Every Thursday at 11 a.m.

Kowloon Tong Garden City Association:—Every Monday and Thursday at 11 a.m.

Helena May Institute (Garden Road):—Every Wednesday at 5.45 p.m.

Peak Club:—Every Friday at 11 a.m.

These lectures will be conducted according to the rules of the Women's Air Raid Precautions Union. Classes for the benefit of their own members have been arranged by the following societies:—

Kowloon Cricket Club:—Commenced June 15, and every Wednesday at 10 a.m. (President, Mrs. R.A. de Castro Basto, "Beau Sejour", 123, Argyle Street, Kowloon).

The Little Flower Club, 216, Nathan Road:—Commenced June 16, and every Thursday at 8 p.m. (Secretary, Miss W. Reis).

Chinese Y.W.C.A., 38c Bonham Road:—Commenced June 17, and every Friday at 8 p.m. (Secretary, Mrs. Shin Tak-hing, 38 Bonham Road).

Lusitano Club:—18 Ice House Street:—Commenced June 20 and every Monday at 5.30 p.m. (Mrs. Jack, Mrs. Wilson).

FOOT ITCH

Athlete's Foot

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

BEWARE OF IT SPREADING

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

HERE'S HOW TO TREAT IT

The germ that causes the disease is known as Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to kill the germ, so you can see why ordinary remedies are unsuccessful. H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

ITCHING STOPS IMMEDIATELY

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

HUMANISING THE RULES AND PRACTICES OF WARFARE

HONAN FLOODS

JAPANESE TROOPS STRANDED

Hankow, June 17.
The flood catastrophe in the Honan province assumed even greater proportions yesterday as the result of cloudbursts and the torrential rain, waters from the Yellow River poured through about 20 breaks in the dykes to inundate the extensive Honan plains.

It is estimated that over 3,000,000 persons have thus far been affected by the flood. Chinese and Japanese are now separated by a lake, about 50 kilometres wide, and extending from the Yellow River to Chowkiakow, the inundated area comprising several thousand square kilometres.

The city walls of Kaifeng, which is the capital of the Honan province, are still standing but the waters are affecting the foundations.

The flood waters are moving rapidly in the direction of Anhwei province.

Several thousand Japanese troops, who are stranded on the western edge of the flooded area, are in a critical position, as the Chinese have hemmed them in and are slowly annihilating them.—(Transocean).

GOVERNMENT CONCERN OVER YELLOW RIVER FLOOD

Hankow, June 17.
The Ministry of Economy has issued instructions to the Yellow River Conservancy Commission to submit a detailed report on the overflowing of the river and a comprehensive scheme for closing the dyke breaches and rehabilitating the flooded areas.—(Central News).

Women's Voluntary Service Organisation: Plans For Recruiting Announced

London, June 16.

Plans for recruiting of a million women in an organisation called the "Women's Voluntary Service" were announced this evening. The Dowager Lady Reading is at the head of the organisation which will not be officially associated with any of defence forces, but will work in close co-operation with the local authorities, Government departments and other women's organisations.

The main duties, which will be of a pacific nature, will be in connexion with air raid precautions. It is stated there are at least 22 different capacities in which members might serve in the time of emergency.

Women between 17 and 65 are being invited to volunteer whether married or single. Members will receive training in anti-gas and general A. R. P. measures.

There will be no uniform and no attempt to copy military type of organisation.

ARTHUR HENDERSON ON POLICE BOMBING ON NORTHWEST FRONTIER

PRIME MINISTER'S EXPLANATION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, June 16.

At question time in the House of Commons, Mr. Arthur Henderson (Labour) asked the Prime Minister whether he was aware of the offer recently made by Mr. Cordell Hull, on behalf of the United States Government, to join other nations in seeking to humanise, by common agreement, the rules and practices of warfare, and whether he would make a similar offer on behalf of His Majesty's Government. Mr. Henderson also asked whether, with such an object in view the Government would announce their willingness to forego the practice of police bombing on the Northwest Frontier of India and elsewhere.

Mr. Chamberlain replied: "In answer to the first and second parts of the question, His Majesty's Government are aware of the observations made by Mr. Cordell Hull and they are always ready to co-operate in seeking an agreement to humanise the rules and practices of warfare. In reply to the third part of the question, the Government will not allow the question of police bombing to stand in the way of reaching such an agreement."

"I take the opportunity of emphasizing that R.A.F. bombers are not employed on the Northwest Frontier or elsewhere for the purpose of attacking the civil population," he said. "In independent operations bombing is never resorted to unless 24 hours notice at least has been given to enable tribesmen and their families to evacuate the area. Even when bombers are used in close support of troops in action, a similar period of warning is always afforded before bombing operations begin to enable the non-combatants to evacuate the area of operation."

"These safeguards are expressly laid down in the regulations governing the employment of the air force on the frontier and they are never departed from in any circumstances," said the Premier.

Mr. Henderson then asked: Is it not a fact that official spokesmen in Japan and Nationalist Spain and other countries are using this practice of police bombing in order to neutralise the moral effect of the protests the British Government have made regarding the bombing of civil populations both in China and Spain?

The Prime Minister: Yes, that is so. That is the reason why I am taking the pains to state exactly the conditions under which bombing may take place on the Northwest Frontier.

Sir Percy Harris (Liberal): Would it not be a splendid gesture to the world if the Prime Minister were to set an example by abandoning this practice?

Mr. Chamberlain: No, I do not think it would be a splendid gesture, but if we found this practice which is in the main, I think, humane, were standing in the way of a general agreement to abolish bombing from the air we should certainly be glad to abandon it.

Mr. George Lansbury, who over many years has criticised police bombing by British forces, intervened at this point, to bring into question the efficacy of the conditions described by the Prime Minister, but Mr. Chamberlain, in reply, indicated his view that attacks on the practice which Mr. Lansbury and another member had cited, clearly must be by persons who were unaware of the conditions and safeguarding which Government imposed on the use of the Air Arm for police purposes.—(British Wireless).

U.S. CONDEMNS INHUMAN BOMBINGS

Washington, June 16.

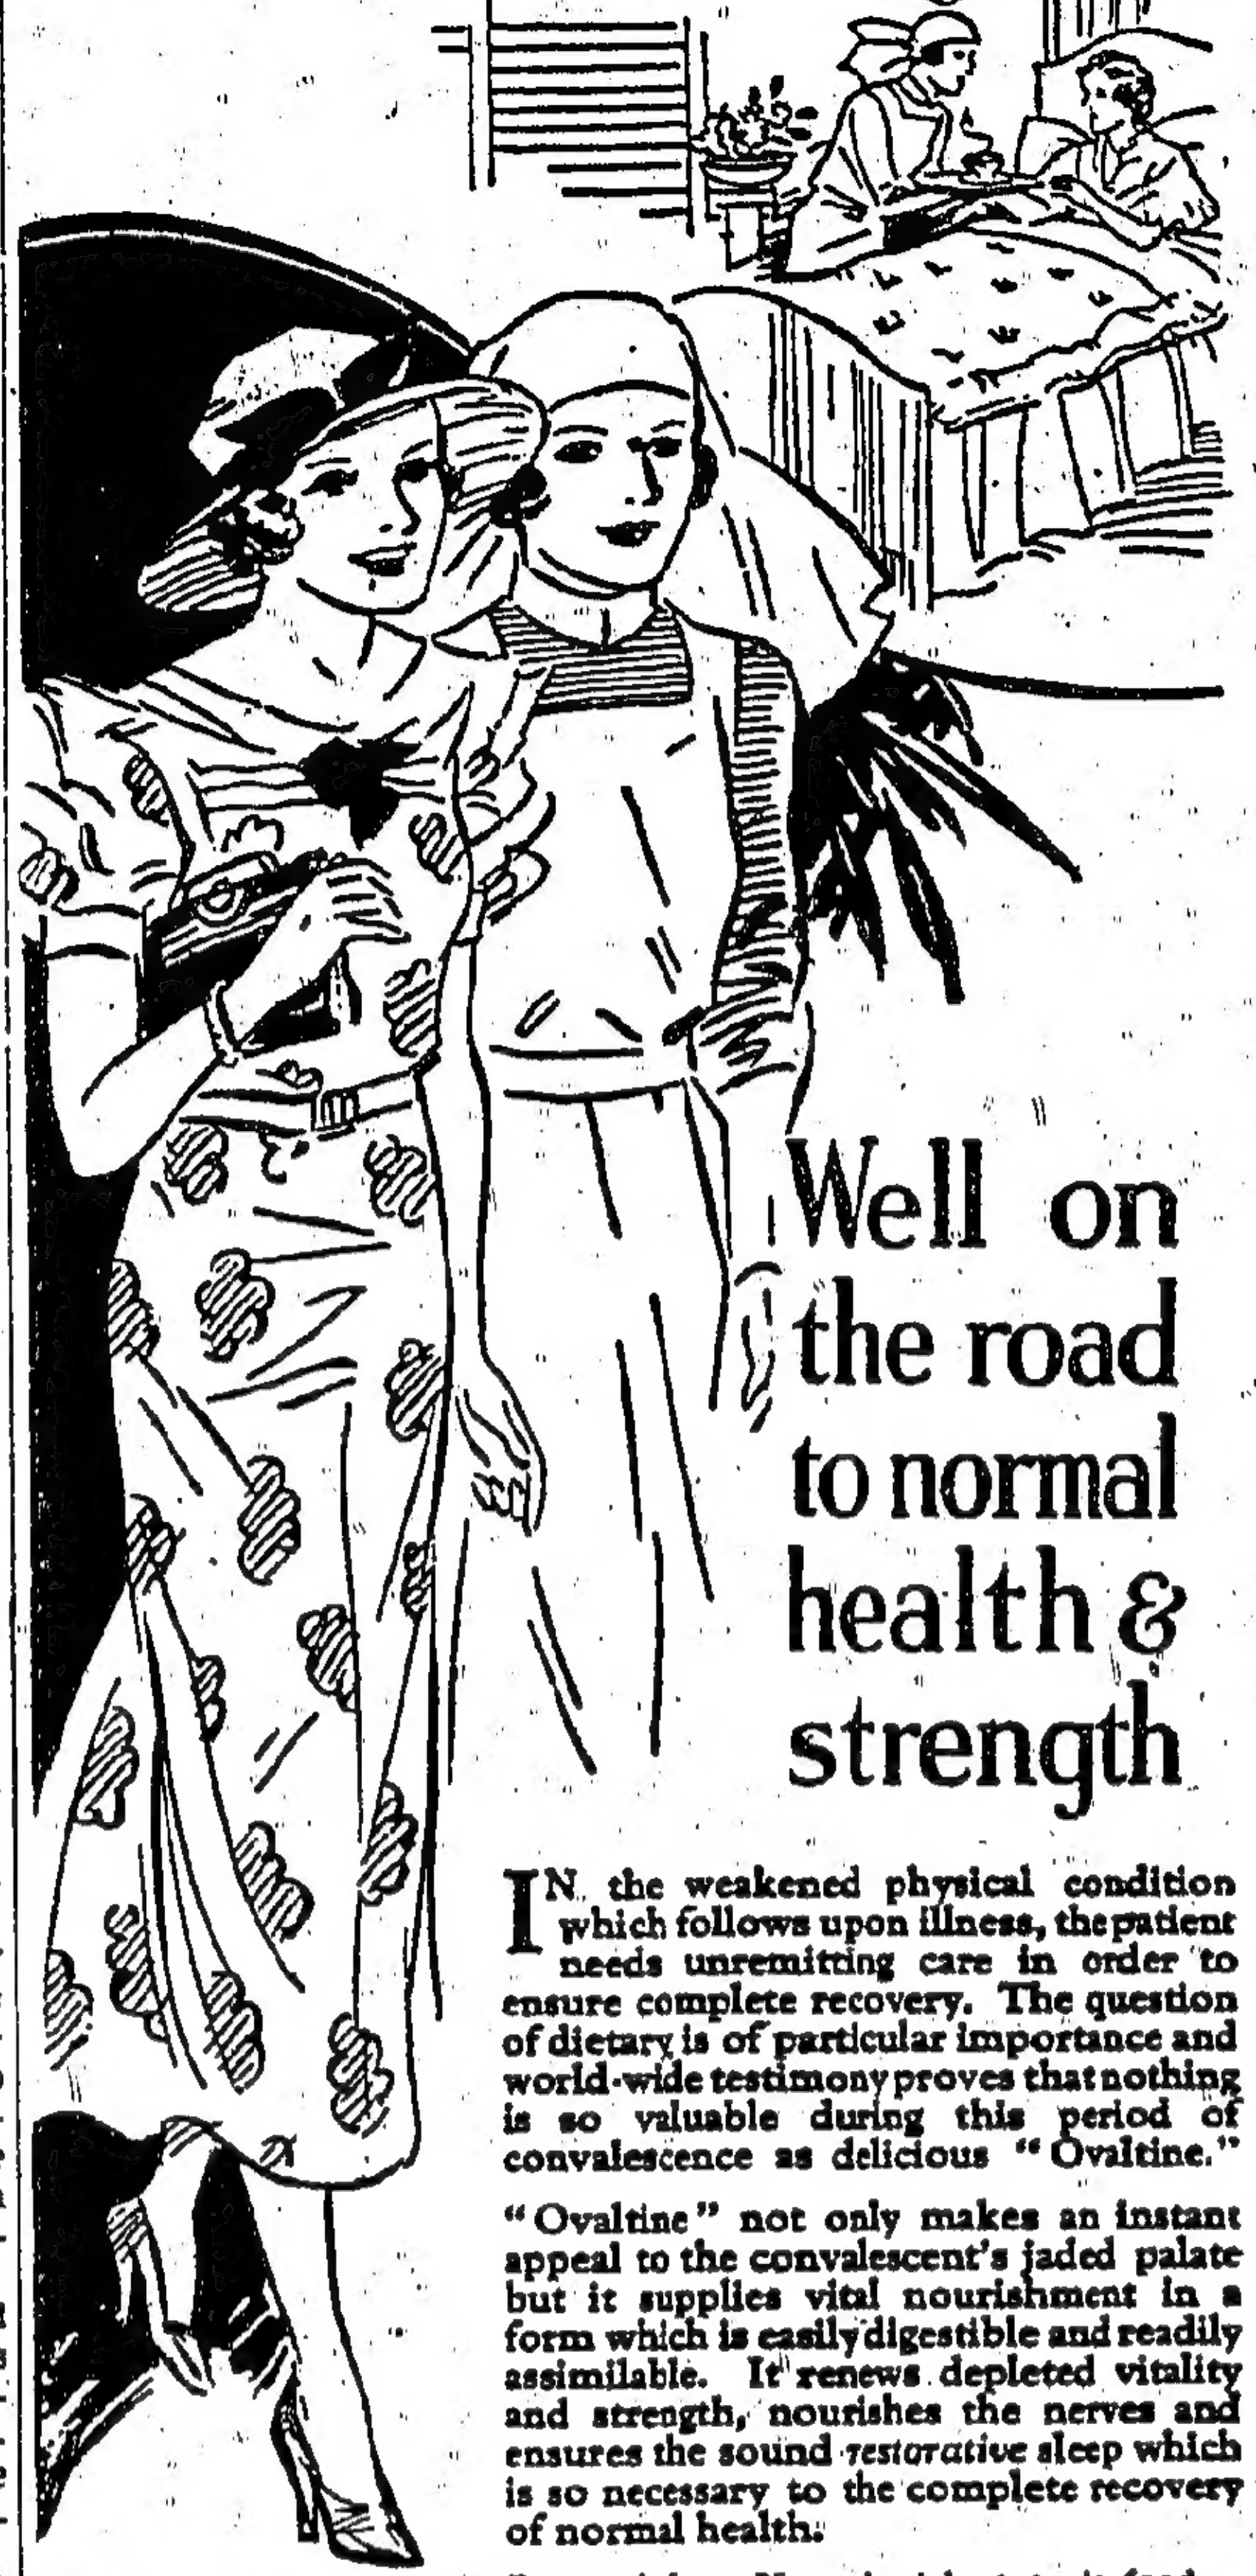

The Senate has adopted a resolution moved by Senator Key Pittman, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expressing "unqualified condemnation of inhuman bombings of civilian populations," and directing the Foreign Relations Committee to study the subject and recommend steps that Congress might take to end the practice.—(Reuter Bulletin).

BOYCOTT URGED

London, June 16.

Members of the China Campaign Committee lobbied the House of Commons this evening, urging members of all parties to support an embargo on oil exports from the British Empire to Japan. They also urged that oil should not be carried to Japan in British tankers, and asked members to support a resolution for financial assistance to China and economic pressure against Japan.—(Reuter).

health &

IN the weakened physical condition which follows upon illness, the patient needs unremitting care in order to ensure complete recovery. The question of dietary is of particular importance and world-wide testimony proves that nothing is so valuable during this period of convalescence as delicious "Ovaltine."

"Ovaltine" not only makes an instant appeal to the convalescent's jaded palate but it supplies vital nourishment in a form which is easily digestible and readily assimilable. It renews depleted vitality and strength, nourishes the nerves and ensures the sound restorative sleep which is so necessary to the complete recovery of normal health.

Prepared from Nature's richest foods—ripe barley malt and fresh creamy cow's milk, plus valuable natural phosphatides and vitamins—"Ovaltine" supplies every single nutritive element necessary for only the recovery of robust health but for its maintenance. When you have left convalescence behind, continue with your regular cup of delicious "Ovaltine" and keep your new found health.

Be careful to avoid imitations. "Ovaltine" stands in a class alone... there is nothing like it. In quality, in value, in flavour and in economy, "Ovaltine" is supreme.

PEAK MURDER CASE OPENS

COOK BOY CHARGED WITH KILLING MRS. CHALLINOR

Husband Gives Vivid Description Of Grim Struggle In Bedroom

Graphic details of how his wife, Mrs. Sybil Ruby Challinor, met her untimely death in the early hours of May 5 at her residence No. 499, The Peak, were related by Mr. R. H. Challinor, manager of the Imperial Chemical Industries (China) Ltd., giving evidence at the Central Court yesterday afternoon before Mr. Butters when Lam Chun, his former cook boy, faced charge of murder.

Mr. John Whyatt, Crown Counsel, conducted the prosecution. Lam Chun, who was not legally represented, appeared in Court with crutches, not having fully recovered from injuries sustained in an alleged attempt to escape.

The prosecution alleged that accused murdered Mrs. Challinor by stabbing her with two kitchen knives.

Accused, said Mr. Whyatt, was employed as a cook boy at the time of the murder. He had been employed as such for about 15 months. His work as a cook boy was described as satisfactory. The relations between accused and his employer were the relations that usually exist between mistress and servant.

Towards the end of April arrangements were made for Mrs. Challinor to go home to visit her daughter, and it was intended that she should leave Hong Kong on May 29, to return in the early part of November. For this reason Mr. Challinor had made arrangements to sub-let his house to new tenants during Mrs. Challinor's absence. On April 30, Mr. Challinor gave his servants, which included a cook, a wash amah, a gardener and a chauffeur and accused himself, their wages and notice, informing them that they would be re-engaged by the new tenants.

ONE EXCEPTION

There was one exception in the arrangement, however, accused was left without a job as the new tenants had their own cook.

On hearing this accused was disappointed and was much distressed.

On the night of May 4, Mr. and Mrs. Challinor dined at home. Mrs. Challinor retired about 11 p.m.

About 4 o'clock the following morning, Mr. Challinor was awakened by the voice of his wife. He looked up and saw accused, armed with two kitchen knives, repeatedly stabbing his wife. Mr. Challinor immediately leapt from his bed and struggled with the accused and at the same time called out to his wife to telephone for the police. Mrs. Challinor made as if to go but collapsed and died within a few minutes.

Meanwhile the struggle between Mr. Challinor and the accused continued and it was not till 20 minutes later that accused was disarmed.

Mr. Challinor then telephoned to Dr. Durran and also informed the police.

ATTACKED SERVANTS

After having been disarmed, accused apparently went to the rear of the house. The cook, who had just returned from town and was preparing to go to bed, heard some noise at the back door. Shortly after, he saw accused standing near the door, dressed only in a Chinese jacket and a pair of socks and covered with blood.

Accused, who was carrying a hammer, attacked the cook and later went into the room and attacked the gardener. The two, however, rushed at him and pushed him out of the door.

The two were still in ignorance of what had taken place in Mr. Challinor's bedroom. They heard shouts of "Robbery" and they ran out of the house into the main road where they met two Chinese detectives. Together the four returned to the house.

While waiting for the door to be opened, one of the detectives flashed his torch on the roof and there they saw the figure of a man lying low, close to the rain gutters. The man leapt into the air as the beam rested on him, and landed on some flower pots some 12 feet below.

Sgt. Moran then arrived on a bicycle with first aid equipment. He questioned the man who had fallen from the roof and the man said he was named Lam Chun.

"I have stabbed the master, the cook, the mistress, and the gardener kept watch. We were all taking part in it," he told the police.

EIGHT STAB WOUNDS

An ambulance arrived later and conveyed Mr. Challinor to the War Memorial Hospital where he remained for several weeks. Later in the morning the body of Mrs. Challinor was removed to the Public Mortuary, where a post-mortem was performed the following day. The doctor's report stated that death was due to severe haemorrhage following stab wounds. There were eight of these stab wounds and one had severed the sub-clavian artery. Medical opinion was that haemorrhage from that wound alone would have caused death.

More police officers arrived at No. 499 The Peak in response to the telephone call. As a result of investigations, two blood-stained knives were found on the floor of the bedroom. The furniture was splattered with blood and the room was in complete disorder. A pair of trousers, underclothes and a torn sleeve belonging to accused, were also found in the bedroom.

MR. CHALLINOR'S STORY

Mr. Richard Howard Challinor, giving evidence said that a few days after he had given accused notice to quit, accused approached him and requested a reference. Mr. Challinor said he discussed the matter with his wife and eventually refused the request.

Coming to the night of the crime, Mr. Challinor said his wife retired about 10.30 p.m. He himself went to bed about 30 minutes later. The door leading to the bedroom was opened as usual.

"During the night I was awakened by my wife's voice calling out 'Boy! Boy! Don't be silly. Don't be silly.' There was no ceiling light on. I sat up in bed. I saw my wife sitting up in bed looking at the prisoner. The prisoner was standing with his back to the mantle-piece, armed with a knife in each hand. I sprang out of bed and pressed the button of the electric switch between the twin beds in the hope that it would attract the attention of the other servants, as the lights had an extension to the servants' quarters.

PROTECTED WIFE

"I then jumped on my wife's bed and placed myself between her and the prisoner. I put my right arm round her body to keep her behind me. I then looked at the prisoner and saw by the travelling clock on the mantle-piece that it was two minutes past four. I then said to the prisoner 'Boy, let us be sensible about it. You know what will happen to you if you injure my wife and me?' He replied 'You say I silly. I not silly. I kill you'."

He took one or two paces forward. I was still shielding my wife behind me and endeavouring to get her off the bed into the passage way between our twin beds when, to my consternation, she suddenly sprang to her feet and jumped out of her bed on the off side near the window. I scrambled after her in an endeavour to intercept the prisoner.

But he, sensing the movement, sprang forward like a leopard and drove the knife—I think the one in his right hand—through my wife's left breast. I pulled him to the ground and whilst struggling with him he kept jabbing with the right hand knife at my wife's body.

"As soon as he struck her she collapsed."

WIFE COLLAPSED

"I got hold of prisoner's wrists, spreading them out face downward. As soon as I had him under control, I said to my wife 'Try to get to the telephone.'"

"She attempted to rise and then collapsed. I was certain that life was extinct."

"The prisoner and I continued to struggle. We then found ourselves on our feet. Prisoner's hand kept aiming at my body with a knife and I endeavoured to ward it off."

"We continued to struggle and both fell heavily on the floor, he underneath me. I had him under control again by the wrist. I said to the prisoner: 'Boy, this all very silly. Missy lie in that corner, killed by you. Now you trying to kill me.' The boy cried 'I killed missy. Now I kill you.'"

"I made desperate attempts to keep the knife out of his hand, particularly the large one in his left hand. I released my grip on his right wrist and used both hands in an endeavour to keep the large knife from him. When I did this he dug the small knife into my back."

BLOOD ON FLOOR

"We then found ourselves on our feet again and by manoeuvring I picked up a rattan chair. I cracked him over the head several times with this chair. It made no impression on him as the rattan chair was very light. I cast the chair aside, closed on him again and, owing to the slippery floor—which was covered with blood—we both fell heavily to the floor. He was again underneath me."

"Finding our faces close together I bit him in the chin. I have very strong teeth. I hung on to him with my teeth deeper and deeper. He tried to shake me off. He then tried to get my face with his right hand. It was then that I realised that the knife was not in his hand. I took hold of his right wrist, holding it out. I still had my teeth in his chin. He then tried to get at my face with his left hand and in doing so let the knife slip from the fingers."

DID NOT USE KNIFE

"I promptly picked it up, and at that moment he was absolutely at my mercy."

"However, I did not use the knife."

"When I took possession of the knife I transferred it from my wounded right hand to my sound left one, and pummelled his head hard many times with the handle."

Mr. Challinor continued to say that he left the accused free. Accused dodged past him and ran out of the room. He intended to follow him, realising that accused was covered with blood and the police might arrest him.

"I went to the bell button and pressed it hard," said witness. "There was no response. Then suddenly I heard a crash coming from the pantry."

"I threw one of the windows wide open, the one opposite where my wife's body was, calling out 'Fa Wong' as loud as I possibly could. There was no response."

"I went and had a look at my wife's body. There was no pulse, no heart beat. She was dead." Witness then said he opened the bedroom door went into the hall and telephoned for Dr. Durran and also made a report to the police.

DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE

Dr. J. Durran, in the witness box, said he received the phone call about 4.32 a.m. He went to No. 499, The Peak and on entering saw Mr. Challinor "covered from head to foot with blood." He said Mr. Challinor was dressed in pyjamas with a coat on top.

Dr. Durran carried out a brief examination on Mrs. Challinor's body and found life was extinct. He then attended to Mr. Challinor, who suffered many wounds. The more severe ones were in the right flanks, head and wrist.

Mr. R. D. Gillespie gave evidence of identification of the body of Mrs. Challinor at the Queen Mary Hospital during the post-mortem. The case was then adjourned till 2.30 p.m. on June 23.

ENGLISH MAILED DELAYED

The Imperial Airways plane, Delta, which was expected to arrive from Bangkok yesterday afternoon with the delayed English mail, was further delayed. She is expected to arrive from Bangkok some time this afternoon.

The Daedalus left Hong Kong yesterday morning for Bangkok with one passenger, Lt-Colonel O. H. Tibbory, Commanding Officer of the 1st Bn. Middlesex Regiment, en route to England. The plane also carried mail.

The present Yellow River follows an artificial course and the waters have been directed into the sea in northern Shantung Province. The old bed of the river ran through Honan and Kiangsu Provinces into the sea near Haichow, the northernmost port in the latter province.

Entering Honan at Tungkwang, the junction between Shansi, Shensi and Honan, where it bends, the river passes through very hilly country until it reaches the east of Chengchow, where it enters a low-lying plain and where there is not a mountain or hill off any kind.

As soon as it passes the Peiping-Hankow Railway and leaves the western section of Honan Province its follows an unnatural course and its currents are directed by man-made dykes. From a point to the north of Kaifeng it follows a straight course eastward until it reaches Lanfeng and, from there, there is a sharp bend northwards into Shantung, where it passes the provincial capital, Tsinan, which likewise is under the level of the river bed.

SILTING and the lack of dredging operations necessitated the construction and repair, year after year, of the huge dykes. For hundreds of years, river conservancy experts have been engaged in the work of dredging the lower part of the river but they have been faced by almost insurmountable difficulties in their efforts to direct the waters back into their original channel.

The Chinese Government has spent millions of dollars each year to give its people work in salvaging the dykes of the EXPENDED Huangho, thus saving their homes and fields. This was simply a sort of hand-to-mouth remedy and the object was only to prevent the river from overflowing.

This year, that work has been neglected on account of the Sino-Japanese hostilities. The repeated Japanese bombardments have made it impossible for the peasants to do their part in preventing the floods. When breaches were reported in the past, farmers of the neighbourhood helped to save the situation but this year this could not be done.

Once a dyke breaks, it is impossible to prevent inundation unless prompt action is taken so that the present floods may be expected to continue for some time after the close of hostilities before any repair work can be done.

It was inevitable that there should be floods this year even had the dykes not been wilfully damaged by the Japanese, because the people had been prevented by the war from carrying out repair work. Once repair work stops the dykes must go.

China's Sorrow will in all probability change its course southward in future and will doubtless find an outlet in northern Kiangsu. Some of the muddy waters will find their way into the Hwai River and some into the Hung Chieh Hu Lake, between Anhui and northern Kiangsu. Hundreds of square miles of land will be flooded and laid to waste, thousands of homes will be flooded and hundreds of lives will be lost while millions will be rendered homeless.

The greatest sufferers of this latest brand of Japanese barbarity are the innocent Chinese people, the farmers, but there can be no question that both opposing armies will also suffer heavily.

ONE THING is certain. The Japanese are to learn still another lesson as to the difficulties that are to be encountered in attempting to penetrate the heart of China. They have caused untold sufferings to the Chinese people and gained nothing but hatred in return. The further they penetrate, the worse it will be for them for, when they deliberately act against Nature, they must suffer the consequences.

Japan may be able to murder and massacre countless numbers of Chinese civilians with her

OBITUARIES AT HOME

VETERAN TRADE UNION LEADER

London, June 16.
Mr. Herbert Smith, Miners' President between 1922 and 1929 who represented the Federation at many international conferences, died suddenly today.

Polling is taking place in the by-election at Barnsley where the veteran Trade Union Leader of 79 lived and worked, and after recording his vote early this morning he proceeded to his office where shortly afterwards he was found dead in his chair.

LADY MURIEL PAGET

The death also occurred today of Lady Muriel Paget who was given the C. B. E. in the Birthday Honours for charitable work in a number of foreign countries. She died in her sleep, aged 61.

She was involved in fantastic allegations in one of the mass Moscow trials in 1934 when it was stated she had worked for the British Intelligence Service.

This was denied by Lady Muriel Paget herself and in an answer by the Prime Minister to a question in the House of Commons, (British Wireless).

The driver was sent to the Kwong Wah Hospital with injuries to the hands, when the lorry skidded and overturned in Saigon Road near the Kowloon Dairy.

A P.W.D. lorry, knocked down Lum Pak-sum, 44, in Queen's Road East. Lum was later sent to the Queen Hospital.

A boy, aged 11, was sent to the Queen Mary Hospital on Thursday with injuries after he had been knocked down by a car driven by Mr. F. Neil, in Lockhart Road.

While driving a car along Queen's Road on Thursday Lau Kwai-shing collided with a cyclist, named Wong Sap, who died shortly after admission to the Queen Mary Hospital.

A. R. P. LECTURE FOR WOMEN

The Sub-Committee of the Air Raid Precautions Union are holding their first lecture on Air Raid Precautions at the Hong Kong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association on Monday, at 5.30 p.m.

Will members of the Hong Kong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association, who are interested, attend?

Lectures on First Aid will also be given free.

mechanised units but, when those weapons face Nature, they are useless. Japan may have her big guns, but her tanks and her armoured cars but hundreds of these will be lost to her because they are too heavy to be carried off in her retreat before the raging torrents.

The Japanese military spokesman at Shanghai may easily sit back in his armchair and say that the Japanese army is equipped with light shallow-draft boats but these will be useless in the roaring waters.

They may be useful in saving the lives of some of the men but they cannot successfully be used in retrieving the heavy equipment. In other words, Nature has helped China to win the war, though it cannot be denied that Japan, by breaching the dykes, has helped to defeat herself.

Now that Japan has done her worst in destroying the Yellow River dykes, the questions now arise, "Does she intend to prevent the Chinese from repairing the Yangtze dykes or is she going to breach them as wantonly as she has done in the case of China's Sorrow?"

In the event of new Yangtze floods resulting, the lives and properties of peoples of nationalities other than Chinese will suffer along with the Chinese. What are the Powers going to do to prevent it?—W.H.C.

NEW ROADS AND RAILWAYS BEING BUILT

Millions of workers are employed day and night in the building of highways and railways in the north-western and south-western provinces, according to recent reports.

Important railways under construction at the present time are:

(1) The Soviet-Chinese Railway. Starting from Chungking in Szechuan, this railway passes through Chinalhai and Sinkiang to Soviet Russia, a total distance of 4,000 kilometres. According to railway experts, this railway when completed will make it possible for one to travel from Chungking to Soviet Russia in 67 hours.

(2) Chengtu-Kunmin Railway. Connecting Chengtu, capital of Szechuan and Kunmin, capital of Yunnan, the railway is being built by a special company organised by the Ministry of Railways and the Szechuan and Yunnan Provincial Governments, with a capital of $20,000,000.

(3) Kweichow-Kwangsi Railway. Connecting Kweilin, capital of Kwangsi and Kweichow, capital of Kweichow, construction work of the railway is expected to be finished by the end of July.

(4) Szechuan-Kweichow Railway. This railway connecting Szechuan and Kweichow provinces is being built by the China Development Bank and it is reported that construction work will be completed in the near future.

HIGHWAYS COMPLETED

Highways completed recently are:

(1) Kowloon-Canton Highway (traffic opened in January, 1938).
(2) Wuchang-Changsha Highway (traffic opened only recently).
(3) Chungking-Kunmin Highway.

Highways under construction are:

(1) Szechuan-Yunnan, Szechuan-Hunan, and Szechuan-Kweichow highways. Road beds are being built. These roads will be ready shortly. The cost of bridges alone was over $1,000,000.

(2) Pingkiang-Luyang Highway in Hunan. This road intends to develop Hunan Province economically.

(3) The Hupoh Provincial Government has appropriated $2,000,000 for the building of roads to connect Hankow and Ichang, Hsiangyang and Szechuan.

(4) Roads are being built to connect Chansha and Kweichow, Kweichow and Chungking and Kunmin and Liuchow.

(5) Highways connecting China and Soviet Russia and French Indo-China are being built also.

AMUSEMENT IN COURT

An amusing scene was the result yesterday when a countryman from Siu Lam Village, Heung Shan, appeared before Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Court on a charge of mendicancy.

Yeung Nang, the beggar, implored the Magistrate not to banish him from the Colony but to let him stay one month after which he would leave of his own accord.

He wanted to find his sister who, he alleged, lived at Taiipo or Yuen Lam. "Yes," said Yeung Nang, "the police had tried to find her but the police were too tactless and went about the job in too much of a hurry."

Sgt. Sykes, who prosecuted, then indignantly told the Court of how much valuable time and expensive petrol had been spent on a fruitless errand. The round trip to Taiipo and Yuen Lam is only a matter of some fifty miles!

LAUGHING AND SHOUTING

Chau Cheuk, 31, appeared before Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Court yesterday on a charge of attempted burglary at 169, Boundary Street, ground floor, the residence of Mr. Wm. Owens.

Defendant behaved rather abnormally during the hearing, laughing and shouting and saying that he had gone into the house to sleep! He was remanded for seven days for medical examination.

LOCAL ESTATE

A petition by Mr. H. J. Armstrong, solicitor and lawful attorney, for sealing certified copy of probate of the will of the late Robert Andrew Muter Macindoe Ogilvie, gentleman, who died at Woking, Surrey, on March 5, has been granted.

The late Mr. Ogilvie left local estate sworn under $18,700.

AIDING STREET SLEEPERS—SUGGESTION MADE

(TO THE EDITOR, HONG KONG DAILY PRESS)

Sir,—A very great deal of money is spent annually in this Colony on charity. For this, Government should be very grateful, as they are thereby relieved of a financial burden, which in other countries would come under the heading of "Social Services." (Examples of the assistance rendered to the Colony by these charitable bodies need scarcely be mentioned, but mission hospitals, mission schools, the Benevolent Society, the Street Sleepers Association come readily to mind). It has frequently been suggested, that, if the organizations which are more specifically designed for the relief of poverty, were to unite, a saving in expenditure would result, as well as an increase in efficiency. The redundancy charitable institutions often plays into the hands of the professional idler or beggar. No doubt there are many difficulties in the way of such a union, but very little effort is made to attain the end.

At the moment, it is estimated that there are 5,000 street-sleepers in Hong Kong and Kowloon, and in view of the recent influx of refugees, this is probably a very conservative estimate. Would it be possible to open twelve centres in different parts of the Colony, each to accommodate 420 men, a total of 5,040? It is not of course suggested that all these centres should be opened at once.

An experiment might be made with one, and a site such as the vacant space at the old Government Civil Hospital might be the most useful starting point. We are not unaware of the fact that this area has been, more or less earmarked for an "open space," nor are we blind to the need of such spaces. But surely the finding of shelter for homeless human beings is an even more urgent necessity?

Another possible site is the Victoria Gaol where buildings are already available. Difficulty in the way of obtaining these places does not make the following scheme any the less workable, and it is put forward as a suggestion, and for constructive criticism.

SPACE ON ALL SIDES
Supposing a space 100 feet square were available. This would be enclosed by a wall 10 feet high on the west, south and south-east sides, and 12 feet high on the north and north-east sides. (The colder winds usually blow from these directions). Inside this space, a roof 82 feet square could be erected on pillars, thus leaving a space or corridor between the walls and pillars of 9 feet, on all sides. Unless in very wet weather, when canvas screens might be used, it is not suggested that side-walls be built.

As there would thus be under normal circumstances a free ventilation of air, no Government Ordinance would be contravened, and if windows were installed upon these could be let into the exterior wall. Lavatory accommodation, serving the users of the shelter, as well as the general public, could be let into the wall on a suitable side, and a simple kitchen for the supply of hot water for washing purposes, on another.

These latter might well be supplied by the Colony from public finance. Underneath the roof already described, there would be eighty spaces, each 10 feet by 8 in each of 70 of these spaces two three-tier beds could be placed, each bed being approximately 6 feet long, two feet three inches wide, thus leaving a fair amount of room for moving in. Thus, total beds would be 420.

It is not suggested that the scheme be on a completely charitable basis. A small charge (say three cents per night) might be made, and the building put on almost a co-operative footing, from which it might in time become self-supporting.

ANNUAL INCOME
Allowing for the total number of beds being occupied each night, the possible income from this source would be $12.60 per diem, or $4,600 per annum. (This is calculated on a basis of 420 beds being available, as space accommodation would seem to indicate, 480. The reason for deducting this area, equivalent to the space of sixty beds, will be explained later).

Against this income, there would be a possible expenditure of perhaps $500 for ground rent, and another $600 for taxes, plus let us say $250 for electric light and sundries. In addition, it is proposed that one clerk at $40 per month be employed, along with four coolies to help, each of these being paid $10 per month. Thus, against a total income of $4,600 per annum, there would be an estimated expenditure of $2,410, leaving a balance of $2,190, which might be used to pay off part of the capital, and the interest on that capital, required for the building. If the building were to cost $10,000 or more, even $20,000, the plan can still be seen to be one with considerable merit. Possible objections that Government might charge more; that estimated income is put at the maximum possible, are not insurmountable. The space equivalent to 60 beds would be necessary for the clerk's office, and for sitting accommodation for occupants before retiring.

These are the main features of this plan which we put forward for reasonable criticism, or support. The possibilities in connection with it are infinite.

For example, those unable to pay even three cents for a bed, might be asked to help clean the premises in the morning, the amount owing for bed accommodation being deducted from the wage for performing this task. On the co-operative aspect of the scheme, of the three cents charged nightly, half a cent might be credited to the payee, and while this would undoubtedly lessen considerably the amount available for payment of capital and interest at the end of the year, it would hold many compensating advantages.

FOR REFUGEES
Special accommodation for refugees who are able to pay more than the suggested three cents, might be arranged, but not to so great an extent as to interfere with the fundamental basis of the shelter being for those who are unable to pay more. Doctors, who at present give so ungenerously of their time to charitable work in connection with similar organizations, would probably be not unwilling to help in this also, and Boy Scouts, who have proved the value of their services in certain other of the Colony's needs, might lend their aid in directing those who are homeless to the nearest available shelter.

If sufficient funds were found, the building might have a flat concrete roof which would give additional space that could be used for a children's playground, or for an occupational centre. The two last-mentioned suggestions offer a valuable opportunity in civic training and responsibility, for the real problem presented to us is not so much what to do for people, but what to do with them, and to help them to do for themselves.

An effort is at present being made to get an estimate of costs. We should ask all readers of this to give it their careful consideration, and if possible, their hearty support.

Yours, etc.,
H. R. WELLS.

"ALL UP" AND "ALL IN"

[To the Editor, "The Hong Kong Daily Press"]

Sir,—In order to settle an argument, will you kindly give a definition of "all up" in the article in regard to mails in your edition of June 15? At the same time, please give a definition of "all in" as applied to wrestling etc.

Yours etc.,
X. Y. Z.

"All up" means carrying all first class mail by air at ordinary letter rates. "All in", as applied to wrestling, means that kicking, punching, kicking, pinching, etc., are permitted.—Editor H.K.D.P.]

NO QUESTION OF A "DICTATED" PEACE

GERMAN ADVISER ON CHINA'S GREATNESS

Marshal Chiang's Triumph Over Military Difficulties

Berlin, June 17. Major Lorenz, who has returned to Germany after having acted from the beginning April 1931 to April 1938 as Military Adviser in China, gave his views on the military situation in the Far East at a special meeting here of the China Study Society.

The gathering was attended by a large number of prominent Germans and by many members of the Chinese colony in Berlin.

Major Lorenz said that the initial difficulties of the Chinese Army, which had been largely due to the lack of concentration in the disposition of its forces, had now been surmounted through the masterful leadership of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek.

Even the technical superiority of the Japanese Army, which had characterised the early phases of the war, was losing in importance from day to day.

The National Government was tackling its tasks in a vigorous manner and without regard to any personal interests. It was undoubtedly gaining ground. Moreover, industrial integration was proceeding apace and even "the outside world" was finding new ways, especially through Indo-China, of coming to China's assistance.

NO DICTATED PEACE

There was, therefore, no reason to speak of the possibility of a "premature" or "dictated" peace. China's strength at this hour rested in the greatness of the Generalissimo and in the greatness of the people who had chosen him as their leader and who were determined to fight for their independence.

Professor Hermann von Wissmann, son of the famous German explorer, also addressed the gathering, his subject being the economic importance of Yunnan Province.

Together with a Chinese member of Nanking University and at the suggestion of Marshal Chiang, he had explored this region in 1937. This venture was in itself the instance of fruitful Sino-German collaboration designed to find new ways for further development of China.

YUNNAN PROSPECTS

Yunnan was described by Professor Wissmann as the granary of China. It was more fitted to play this part in the future of China, as being for the most part spared from the threat of catastrophes wrought by nature it could become a reliable factor in Chinese national economy. Apart from this, there were very important mineral resources, including tin and copper ores as well as gold and silver.

Better communications was the crying need of Yunnan. It would have to be linked up with Central China and with the neighbouring countries beyond its south-western borders.

Opening up in the economic sense of this wealthy province, declared Professor Wissmann, would bring a valuable extension of the Chinese market. — (Transocean).

SINO-GERMAN RELATIONS

New Ambassador To Cement Friendship

Hankow, June 17.

"I shall endeavour, to the best of my ability, to cement Sino-German relations when I reach Germany," declared Mr. Chen Chieh, newly appointed Chinese Ambassador to the Reich, in an interview with a Ta Kung Pao correspondent in Chungking.

Mr. Chen said that Sino-German relations had been friendly. Prior to the outbreak of hostilities Germany had given China valuable assistance in economic as well as cultural fields. After the outbreak of the war, her sympathy has been with this country.

Mr. Chen will sail for Germany to assume his post in the middle of next month. — (Central News).

MR. CHEN CHIEH FETED

Chungking, June 17.

Mr. G. Scheffler, German Consul at Chungking, gave a tea party at the International Club yesterday afternoon in honour of the appointment of Mr. Chen Chieh as Chinese Ambassador to Germany. In succession to Dr. Cheng Tien-fang.

The Sino-German Cultural Association will also give a reception in honour of Mr. Chen this afternoon. — (Central News).

FIVE DAYS IN QUARANTINE

Shuntien's Delay At Chefoo

Shanghai, June 17.

The B. and S. Shuntien is expected to sail for Tientsin on Sunday from Chefoo, where she is at present quarantined, when the normal five-day quarantine period ends.

Captain W. T. Paul, commander of the Shuntien, sailed from Shanghai with 40 foreign passengers and the usual booking of Chinese passengers aboard, believing that all held certificates of inoculation against cholera. Despite all precautions, however, an infected Chinese passenger succeeded in boarding without inoculation.

Quarantine and harbour conditions in Shantung ports are described by a steamship official as "exactly the same as Dairen," which has always been noted for the minuteness and rigidity of its quarantine and harbour regulations.

Shipping men agree that however irksome these regulations frequently are, they are usually logical and impartially enforced. — (Reuter).

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT RATES INCREASED

Change On China Coast Steamers

Shanghai, June 17.

Freight rates on the China Coast were increased 10 per cent yesterday.

With the 15 per cent increase made effective on April 10, the coastal freight rates are at present 25 per cent higher than in March.

Passenger fares have also been increased 10 per cent and will become effective on Sunday, June 26. This is the first increase in passenger fares this year.

"The rate of increase is merely a reflection on the decreased exchange value of the Chinese dollar," declared steamship officials.

OPERATING COSTS

The ratio of increase in operating costs to the decrease in the dollar is extremely difficult to calculate accurately, according to operators.

Insurance costs are about £25 daily on a modern China Coast steamer and the depreciation in officers' salaries, fuel, oil or coal, as well as the managing executives' salaries are paid in sterling.

On the other hand, freight handling charges, wharfage and pilotage dues, crews' and employees' wages, printing and advertising are paid in local currency. Thus the operating costs seem roughly to be about evenly divided between sterling and local currency. — (Reuter).

NANGA PARBAT EXPEDITION

PLANE'S TRIBUTE TO DEAD SCIENTISTS

Munich, June 18.

The Junkers plane chartered by the Himalaya expedition made its second flight over Nanga Parbat yesterday. It flew over the massif at a height of 6,300 metres and circled over the spot where exactly a year ago seven Germans and nine Indian porters lost their lives.

The machine dropped supplies over the main camp and then returned to its base at Srinagar. — (Transocean).

EFFECT ON COLONIAL PRODUCERS

U.S. Purchasing Power Decline

London, June 16.

Lord Harlech, the former Secretary of State for the Colonies, speaking tonight at the annual dinner of the Corona Club, which comprises officials of the Colonial Service, referred to the serious effect of the recent decline in the purchasing power of the United States on Colonial producers and trade.

Lord Harlech dwelt particularly on the subject of tropical commodities which the United States could not produce itself, such as rubber, palm oil and tin. He added that the real recovery of the United States would do more to help British Malaya and East and West Africa than anything else.

Much skilled stock-taking was going on in the Colonies, Lord Harlech declared. On that basis new policies and methods would emerge, and must be carried out efficiently by the Colonial civil service. — (Reuter).

BRAZILIAN EXTERNAL DEBT

SIR JOHN LEECH'S SUGGESTION

London, June 16.

In the House of Commons, Sir Joseph Leech (Conservative) asked the Chancellor of the Exchequer whether, notwithstanding the temporary loss to all concerned, he would impose prohibitive duties on imports of Brazilian products into the United Kingdom, pending the cessation of the default which had extinguished £80,000,000 of British savings. The question urged this action on the grounds that as diplomatic protests were disregarded, unless the Government made it clear to foreign borrowers that ill-treatment of British capital would be met by tariff reprisals, no British subject would invest in future in foreign countries and as a result international trade would contract and unemployment would increase.

Sir John Simon replied that the Government attached the greatest importance to the resumption of payments on the Brazilian external debt and were in close consultation with the Council of foreign bondholders. He had considered Sir John Leech's suggestion but did not think it would achieve the object the Honourable Member had in mind. — (British Wireless).

FURTHER RESTRICTIONS ON PETROL IN JAPAN

Tokyo, June 17.

The Minister for Finance and Economics announced yesterday that the consumption of petrol for non-military purposes will be still further restricted in order to assure that sufficient petrol is available for fuel requirements of the army, navy and air force.

Petrol supplies should be strictly rationed and allotments made only for "productive purposes," said the Minister.

Up to now the petrol consumption had been 30 per cent under normal, and after July 1, when the new restrictions will come into force, it will be reduced by further 10 per cent.

The Minister forecast the introduction of similar restrictions for the consumption of other supplies to increase her exports in order to obtain, through the sale of Japanese goods, foreign currency for buying ammunition and raw materials from the foreign countries. The Government would do everything in its power to promote exports. — (Transocean).

MANY KILLED IN HUAIYIN BOMBING

Huaiyin, June 17.

DEFENEC LOAN

London, June 16.

The new Defence Loan for £30,000,000 has been fully subscribed. Dealings opened on the Stock Exchange this morning at a slight premium.

It is understood that applicants for amounts up to £5,000 received their allotment in full, while higher applications received approximately two-thirds, as the loan was estimated to have been oversubscribed one and a half times. — (Reuter).

GREAT YELLOW RIVER FLOOD

GREATEST CATASTROPHE

Shanghai, June 17.

China is now threatened with the most serious flood catastrophe of the present century. The fate of several provinces will be decided within the next two days.

If the floods of the Yellow River and of the Yangtze-kiang reach the great lakes of the coast province of Kiangsu, the provinces of Honan and Anhwei will be converted into a huge lake by the joint floods of the two rivers, and in that event, no fewer than 30,000,000 will be threatened with death. — (Transocean).

FUTURE OF THE SANJAK

Antioch, June 17.

First details regarding the future of the Sanjak leaked out yesterday.

Informed quarters believe that the Geneva Statute will be replaced by a direct Franco-Turkish agreement. Although details regarding the future form of the Government are not yet known, it is believed that the Sanjak will be administered by the French Governor jointly with the native Turkish civil Government.

It is certain, in any case, that an equal number of French and Turkish troops will be stationed in the Sanjak.

All military units, including the Turkish ones, will be placed under the supreme command of the French Military Governor. The Franco-Turkish Staff contingents, as well as the date when the Turkish troops shall enter the Sanjak. — (Transocean).

PROTEST TO FRANCE

Complain Planes Flew Over Franco's Territory

Salamanca, June 17.

The Franco Government has protested to the French Government against the flight over the Nationalist Spanish border by French military planes yesterday, the Salamanca radio station announced today.

It is pointed out in the protest that this was not the first violation of the frontier by French planes, but that French military planes had repeatedly flown over Nationalist Spanish territory without complying with the necessary formalities. — (Transocean).

ACTION TO CURB NAZI MOVES IN DENMARK

With the intention of controlling the situation in Denmark more strictly, the Norwegian Minister for Justice (M. Steinkjer) has directed the police commissioner to inquire into Nazi activities.

This follows a sensation in Parliament recently when a young Nazi demonstrator in the visitors gallery fired two revolver shots while M. Steinkjer was addressing the House on the new immigration law, which is strongly opposed by the Nazis.

Under orders from Berlin, Nazis have been active for some time in South Jutland, which the Versailles Treaty restored to Denmark. Leading politicians insist on general measures against Nazi activities in the Tidsjebelt district, an area on which Germany demands conversations.

At the last election, 19,013 Danish and 6240 German votes were recorded in this district.

LADY IBRAHIM GOES HOUSE-HUNTING

No English Divorce Proceedings

While reports continue to link the names of the 64-year-old Sultan of Johore and Miss Lydia Cecily Hill, a former West End cabaret girl, in a new romance, Lady Ibrahim, Sultana of Johore until three months ago, is house-hunting in London.

Lady Ibrahim, who has lived in hotels and clubs since her arrival in London on March 29, and has maintained a discreet silence as to events which led to her leaving Johore, desires to have a home of her own in which to live with her actress-daughter, Miss Eleanor Wilson, who is anxious to continue her stage career.

According to Lady Ibrahim's brother-in-law, Mr. Harry Lumsden, of Glasgow, to whom she has revealed the new plans she has made for the future, there is no question of English divorce proceedings being instituted by her. "The whole question was settled by a State Council in Johore," he said, "and the divorce there automatically annulled the English wedding."

REGISTRY MARRIAGES

Mr. Frank Day Lockwood, Police Officer in the S.M.C., Shanghai, and Miss Elsie White Thompson, daughter of Mr. R. D. Thompson, Chief Engineer in Butterfield and Swire, were married at the Registry, Supreme Court, yesterday.

Mr. W. Aneurin Jones officiated and the witnesses were Mrs. Ruby D. Lowe and Mrs. S. M. Barling. Another Registry marriage was that between Mr. Hui-Ying-gong, radio mechanic, and Miss Sham Sau Ying. The witnesses here were Mrs. Ng Yam-kwai and Mr. So Kam-wo.

AN INTERESTING PROGRAMME FOR MACAO RACE MEETING TOMORROW

Double Chance Is Favoured For The Monte Handicap

FAIR SIZE FIELDS ASSURED

(BY "LAST QUARTER")

Racing fans will still have another opportunity of indulging in their favourite pastime before the ponies are "let down" for their summer recess. The Macao Jockey Club have arranged an attractive programme of seven events for tomorrow (Sunday), commencing at 2 p.m., and owners have entered their ponies sufficiently to ensure fair sized fields, capable of producing keen racing and close finishes.

The somewhat taxed accommodation on the s.s. Kinshan of the last meeting will be averted, as the Hong Kong and Macao Steamboat Co. are placing the s.s. Talsan on the run tomorrow. This comfortable and speedy vessel will leave Hong Kong at 9.30 a.m., returning from the Portuguese Colony at 8 p.m.

AREIA PRETA HANDICAP

The opening event of the day is a five-furlong sprint for Macao subscription ponies that have not won a race this year. A close review of the entries narrows the ultimate result to a possible struggle between Merry Maker and Victory Life.

The latter, however, though in the opinion of many, a superior pony, is not too reliable and has disappointed on several occasions by running out at one of the bends or trying to unseat the jockey. In view of the foregoing I would prefer to pin my faith on Merry Maker. The third place should go to Morning Tip.

Another entrant with a possible chance is Shih Yin Grand, but this pony has been under a cloud for quite a while and unless he strips well and looks a picture of fitness in the paddock, I cannot recommend him too strongly.

MA KAU SIAC HANDICAP

The quality is nothing exceptional in this six furlong race and despite the difference in weight between Mongolian Cat and African Cat and the rest of the probable field, I feel that the two I have mentioned are a shade superior in class and should fight out the finish between them. Macao Star will probably fill third place, with National Triumph about the best of the remainder.

MONTE HANDICAP (FIRST SECTION)

In this event we have some old friends from Hong Kong and the race should be worth watching. Emergency Call has regained a little old form, as witnessed by the recent outing at Happy Valley. Astrik is another candidate with good possibilities.

My particular choice, however, for this event, is Double Chance, and if a strong jockey is given the mount, I do not believe any of the other contenders will be able to beat this gun. Winning is also dangerous, but for those looking for a rank outsider, I would recommend Sahara Star. This pony is rather temperamental, and it may be that a strange course will bring out the best in him.

BARRA HANDICAP

The entries are fairly heavy for this six furlong race, but I am inclined to believe that several of the ponies will be sent out in the first race. On paper Shanghai 4 will undoubtedly appeal most to the public fancy but I am not certain as to whether this pony has recovered from the lameness which prevented him from starting in the Governor's Cup at the last Macao meeting.

If this pony is fit, he should be very near as I think Shanghai 4 is sufficiently superior to the rest to annex the event despite the difference in weights. Merry Doer gave two very convincing displays at the May meeting and is rather lightly weighted. This grey will furnish the main opposition and is the one most likely to beat the favourite.

Victory Life and Merry Maker are other possibilities if not sent out in the first event.

ASCOT MEET IN FINE WEATHER

Favourite's Success
In Last Race

London, June 16.

Glorious weather favoured today's racing at Ascot today.

Their Majesties were again present to watch the Gold Cup race, which went to America. Mr. William Woodward's Flares, a 100-7 outsider, winning a thrilling race by a neck from Lord Glanely's Buckleigh, at 100-8.

The French horse, Dadjis, started a 2-1 favourite but was fifth. Dadjis' failure to get a place, as did Fearless Fox which was a 5-2 second favourite, was only one of a series of blows dealt to backers.

Flag of Truce, a 7-4 favourite in the Ribbles Dale Stakes, was unplaced to River Prince, at 6-1.

Gharullin, a 7-2 favourite in the of the four members of the Royal Grandville Stakes, was unplaced to Old Reliance, a 7-2 shot from the Couvert stables; and worst of all, R.A.F. who were killed in a crash, Fuzzler, a 1-4 odds on favourite in near Limpopo, recently.—(Reuter the House Memorial Stakes, wa beaten by a neck, by the Aga Khan's Bahadur, at 9-2.

Backers had to wait until the last race, the Cork and Derrery Stakes before the favourite was successful. Ipsden, 6-4, won comfortably from three opponents, much to the relief of backers.

Previous to this, Sir Abe Bailey's unbeaten colt, Meadow, 8-1, beat Diadoque, 9-4 favourite, in a large field in the New Tyto Stakes.

The North Country crack, Factolus, starting at even odds, was unplaced in the Waterford Three-Year-Old Stakes, which also went to America through Mr. Widener's Derby runner, Unbreakable, starting at 3-1.—(Reuter).

BOXERS' DEFENDANTS

Pretoria, South Africa, June 16.

The people of South Africa have raised £4,000 for the defendants of the four members of the Royal Air Force boxing team and two Old Reliance, a 7-2 shot from the Couvert stables; and worst of all, R.A.F. who were killed in a crash, Fuzzler, a 1-4 odds on favourite in near Limpopo, recently.—(Reuter the House Memorial Stakes, wa

BENEFACTION FOR H.K.U.

Captain Bosman's quality was shown in the adventurous mode of travel he adopted for a great part of his journey to Hong Kong. Accompanied by Mrs. Bosman, two other ladies and a chauffeur, he travelled from Calais to Agra, in India, by motor car and trailer; a remarkable feat for any man, but astonishing in a man of his years.

It is confidentially hoped that the story of his adventures by the way will before long be published in book-form. Those who know something of the story look forward to reading a full account of a triumph of spirit over almost intolerable hardships.

ADVOCATE OF

UNDERSTANDING

Capt. Bosman remembered what the Colony had done for him in his years of education. His contact during his professional life with people of every race and stage of civilization made him almost fanatically an advocate of understanding between peoples as the basis of peace.

After consulting Mr. Ho Kom-tong, he decided to endow what he wished to call "Peace Scholarships" to be held at the University of Hong Kong. Since his return to South Africa he has sent the first instalment of the scholarship Endowment Fund, a sum of £3,000, a half of the total amount that he proposes to give.

The general condition governing the award of the "Peace Scholarship" was discussed with Captain Bosman while he was in the Colony. Certain details have still to be settled, but as soon as Captain Bosman has assented to these, the University will be in a position to make the first awards.

JAPAN TO FIGHT TO FINISH

Ugaki, "when the Japanese Government would be prepared to look into the question again."

Regarding the Nine-Power Treaty, Gen. Ugaki stated that this Treaty, concluded 18 years ago, could no longer be applied to the modified situation but that a new one could be negotiated, having regard to the altered circumstances. (Transocean).

Return Of Chinese Tokyo Official

EMBASSY CLOSED TEMPORARILY

Mr. Yang Yun-chu, Charge d'Affaires at the Chinese Embassy, Tokyo, arrived in the Colony yesterday by the R.M.S. Empress of Canada. He will remain here until he receives instructions from the Foreign Office at Hankow.

Mr. Yang granted a Daily Press representative an interview in his hotel yesterday and at the outset said that diplomatic relations between China and Japan had not been severed. The Embassy at Tokyo was closed as a "temporary measure" and he added that the Embassy, together with all furniture and fittings, had been handed over to the Japanese Government with the request that everything was to be kept intact.

Of the present hostilities, Mr. Yang could not be persuaded to speak beyond merely stating that the war may last from anything between six months and a year. "The Japanese," he added, "are anxious to finish it off as soon as possible but the stand of the Central Government is that the war will be continued so long as a single Japanese soldier remains on Chinese territory."

PETROL SUPPLY LIMITED

The Chinese Embassy suffered many indignities from the end of April till May, said Mr. Yang. For instance, early in April, the petrol supply was limited to two gallons per day for each car.

"We disregarded this and got over the difficulty by using hired cars and not our own vehicles," the diplomat said.

"On May 19 a party of about 30 people who claimed to be Chinese residents of Tokyo came to the Embassy and asked us to leave," said Mr. Yang. "They said that if we handed over the building to them they would look after it all right."

As this request was ignored another party called at the Embassy at 8 a.m. on May 23, and demanded to see the Charge d'Affaires.

Mr. Yang said he agreed to see any three members of the party. The delegates were selected and they were granted an interview, which lasted till 11 a.m. After this it was impossible to carry on the work smoothly and, with the orders of the Foreign Office at Hankow the Embassy notified the Japanese Government, as well as the other diplomatic organs in Tokyo, that it was closing temporarily.

"We left on June 11, and a representative of the Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs came to see us off. Other officials sent us baskets of flowers," Mr. Yang concluded with a smile.

CRICKET LUNCH SCORES

WILL YANGTSE BE OPENED?

care, alleging that the transaction on which Reuter was relying was "entirely coined, since we can assert definitely that no such report appeared."

When Reuter's correspondent produced the actual cutting of the paper in Japanese, together with the translation officially stated as correct by British naval authorities, the Japanese interpreter would only remark, "we have no comment to make."

OPTIMISTIC

It is understood that the British authorities have not been notified of any change of the Japanese attitude in the Yangtse. On the contrary, their continued representations are still met with a blank refusal to open the river.

The appearance of the above paragraph in the Japanese paper, however, which it is felt in British circles could not have been printed unless it had been officially sanctioned, has made the British optimistic of a change in the Japanese attitude.—(Reuter).

UNAUTHORISED!

Shanghai, June 17.
The Japanese naval spokesman at this evening's press conference declared that the report of the opening of the Yangtse was both unauthorised and untrue.

The British authorities, nevertheless, propose to take up the matter with the Japanese naval authorities tomorrow.—(Reuter).
